FATAL EXPLOSION. John A. Tassone, age 66, 316 Park ave., died Monday night of injuries suffered when the steam boiler (see arrow) he was attending exploded earlier in the day at the Crescent Furniture plant on the South Side. Story inside.

FLUORIDATION POSTPONED BY WARREN COUNCIL

Councilman Miller asked council Monday night to delay action on the subject of fluoridation until the public service committee has time to study additional information on the subject. Asked by Councilman Timm if the wording of the eventual ordinance would be the same as that submitted at the October meeting, Councilman Miller said he did not submit an ordinance at the October meeting. He described the ordinance he had read as a position instead of a proposed law.

Later in the meeting several councilmen urged a minimum of delay on the subject so that the public would know where council stood. Councilman Africa asked if the committee could be forced to submit an ordinance so that a vote could be taken. Solicitor Harper explained that work by committee was a policy and not a legislative necessity. He said any councilman could introduce an ordinance.

Councilman Africa said that if the public service committee was not prepared to act at the January meeting he would introduce a fluoridation ordinance himself.

* CHLORINE BIDS

With council in the business of operating a sewage plant it becomes necessary to purchase chlorine. It is estimated that between 12 and 15 tons of liquid chlorine will be used each year.

Six bids were received, all of which were identical, except for a small bonus in one Pickett Hardware bid. The price is $11.50 a hundred pounds for all chlorine used up to 14 tons. Then it drops to $10 a hundred pounds.

The Pickett bid also included a $1.50 a hundred bonus for all amounts used over 15 tons. This suggests Warren might get a $30 bonus, though it may never use even 15 tons a year.

 WARDS TO BE CHANGED

Councilman Emery reported that changes in Warren's wards were about due for consideration. The court has approved the work of the committee which was appointed in April of 1955. The court appointed a commission which has been changed because of resignations. It now consists of Maurice Emery, Blain Mead, and Carl Timm.

The present plan would make two wards out of Wards 1, 2, and 3. Wards 4, 7, 6, 8, and 9 would stay as they are. Ward 5 would be divided. The net result would be nine wards of about equal size in population. The 7th might be small but is being left alone because of the geography.

The line between 6 and 9 will be kept the same, though 9 will be left a little smaller. But this will allow for growth. If the line is moved a block or two west, the eventual growth of Ward 9 would mean a loss of proportion later on.

The big 5th will not be divided exactly in half. The lower half will be made a bit larger so that the natural growth of upper 5th will eventually equalize them.

Changes in the wards have been delayed to accommodate the county commissioners who should complete the new assessment program this coming spring. The program includes a new filing system, and it will be more efficient to do this only once. The revamping of the wards also will be completed before the May primaries so that the political subdivisions as they affect council and election officials will be known.

* AND OTHER BUSINESS

Council received a letter from the Warren Water Company assuring the community that there will be no charge either for installation of fluoridation equipment or the chemical used.

Dr. W. S. Walters was reappointed to a three-year term on the ambulance service board. . . . President Laskaris dissolved the sewage disposal plant committee. . . . Council named S. F. Bonavita to fill out the unexpired term of Spencer L. Myers who resigned from the planning commission. The term ends October 12, 1959.

The resignation of Council James S. Frantz was accepted with much regret. The action is necessary because of his change of address. He was invited to serve on the finance committee in an advisory capacity.

A resolution was unanimously passed adopting the per capita tax as a means of obtaining revenue in 1959. . . . Bids were approved for the purchase of a 3/4-ton truck for the street department, probably at the January meeting.

B. W. Knapp was reappointed to the Warren Borough Sanitary Authority for a five-year term. . . . Councilman Yagge revealed that the Warren Rescue Inc. wants to use the cinder supply area near the Fifth ave. bridge for a "duck" shelter. (Question. Where would we put the cinders?)

Councilman Carbon urged action on the open manholes left by the Milano firm. He pointed out that one involves a break in the levy and that residents of that area are very uneasy, due to the tremendous snowfall and the possibility of flood if a thaw and rain combination develops.

Solicitor Harper explained that a referendum on fluoridation would not be legal. It could be placed on the ballot, if the election board allowed it, but the result would not be binding on council.

THERE OUGHT TO BE a law. Borough officials say that this arch built onto a new grocery building is within the law. It comes very close to the sidewalk and at an intersection. We believe that such hazards should be prevented by correct zoning.

As the car from which the picture was taken prepares to pull into the avenue there are two trucks completely hidden behind the pillar. If the driver had glanced to the right and then to the left he could have missed seeing the trucks as they drove from the far building to the spot behind the pillar.

Natural hazards, such as trees, and some utility poles and old buildings already create this problem at many corners. Why accentuate it by allowing more erections of this nature? At the best we will have too many blind corners.

SHORT SUMMER. This is where we went out last March.

GOLDEN AGERS PARTY. Golden Agers of both the Warren and the recently organized State Hospital groups joined together for a Christmas Party Monday at the YWCA.

STATE TO CONSIDER NEW SCHOOL PLANS DEC. 18; KELLER RE-ELECTED

The Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction has scheduled Thursday, December 18, for a conference to consider the final plans and specifications for the new Warren Area Joint High School, it was disclosed Monday evening at the reorganization meeting of the joint committee of the Warren Area Joint School Board. A decision was then reached by the body making February 4 the date for the bid opening on the construction project and February 9 the date to approve the bids.

In its reorganization session the committee renamed to the president post Melvin G. Keller, the lone member to hold the position since the jointure was formed in 1953. Mr. Keller has also served as president of the Warren Borough Board since 1945.

Selected to continue in the position of vice president of the committee was Norman W. Grosch, Mead twp. representative. He first took office last year after L. M. Schaeffer, Pleasant twp., resigned from the position.

Another request that this area form a Union District or at least include grades one through 12 in the jointure set-up was again thrown into the laps of the committee members by the state. No action was taken. At the same time the members of the jointure learned of the state's approval for bonus payment to them for the operation of the current school year.

The Elk twp. school board reported that Carl Peterson had been re-elected to a five-year term on the Warren Area Joint Authority.

Bills reported and approved were $437, substitutes employed; $60, recreation services; $454, special services; $893, janitors' overtime; $1,748, orders written during the month; $7,624, cafeteria report; $6,836, finance committee report.

To allow the Warren Area High School Authority to operate until the bonds are sold for the new high school building, $100 was appropriated. The amount will be repaid later.

The possibility of a secondary enrollment of 2,950 in the year 1970-71 (an increase of approximately 900 students) was disclosed in figures submitted by Superintendent Carl E. Whipple on estimated enrollment trends as developed using index numbers of the nationally-known firm of Engelhardt, Engelhardt, Leggett and Cornell.

OTHER BUSINESS:

Hal Miller will attend the state convention of Health and Physical Education Teachers at Harrisburg December 11-13, Mrs. Dorothy Buf-ton the annual conference of Pennsylvania School Counselors at Hershey on April 23-24, Mrs. Arleine Whitehill the Future Homemakers activities at the Farm Show at Harrisburg January 13-14 with a delegation of girls, the superintendent a meeting of the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania Association of Chief School Administrators in Harrisburg December 18-19. Miss Jean Steele was given permission to serve on a visiting committee which will evaluate Falconer, N.Y., high school March 10-12.

DECEPTIVE ADVERTISING

With the Federal Trade Commission campaigning to curb deceptive advertising, the public probably should be alerted to what comes under this category. The Commission has established a nine-point program by which the advertisers should measure their ads. Here they are:

1. The advertiser should not:
1. Claim or imply that a price is reduced unless it applies to a specific article, not just similar or comparable merchandise.
2. Advertise a reduced price if it is based on an artificial mark-up or isolated sales.
3. Compare prices for comparable merchandise.

4. Claim a special sale price unless it is a bona fide reduction from the customary retail price.
5. Advertise a two-for-one sale unless the price for the two articles is the usual retail price for the single article.

6. Offer merchandise at half price or one-cent unless factually true, and the reduction is made from the customers recent price.

7. Claim factory or wholesale prices unless merchandise is offered at the same price the retailer regularly pays.

8. Pre-ticket a price figure that exceeds the regular price.

9. Compare the price for an article described as imperfect, irregular or second with the higher price for the same article in perfect condition without saying so.

GOOD ADVERTISING

The really big names in the advertising field, those who deal in billions of dollars worth, have many helpful suggestions to offer the average merchant who is not trained in this field. We offer a few here in this busy Christmas season.

Try for a change of pace in the ad copy you prepare.

Refelct the excitement of the season.

3 HOURS FREE PARKING!!

Park 3 Hours in Liberty Street Parking Lot

(Next To Logan's)

FOR ANY $5 PURCHASE

Logan's

Do not crowd ads with too many items.

Play up the importance of gift certificates.

Include store hours and your address in all ads. (It is surprising how many fail to do this adequately.)

NOT SO SEASONAL

Other thoughts which are not so seasonal, but apply at all times, include the following:

Avoid superlatives, generalizations, platitudes.

Try not to be a dull bore. The average woman reads only four advertisements in the average issue of an average newspaper. A sobering thought. If you want your ad to be one of the four, you must provide copy that encourages reading.

Tell the truth, and in an interesting fashion.

A LONG STORY

There are many more ideas, all of which we are willing to discuss with any advertiser who wants to learn the facts. In view of research results it is obvious that the average lady reads more than four ads in the Observer. The reason being is that they are easier to find and the paper comes once a week. The result is that most people have it around several days and see every page before the week is over. They miss many issues of a daily.

The value of ads which will catch the eye and hold the reader's interest is emphasized by the fact that only about one-fifth of the ladies are ad readers. By ad readers we mean those who scan a paper or magazine from cover to cover and read nearly every advertisement.

An ad which discourages reading by being crowded or by lacking a catch line or eye-catching art is ignored by four-fifths of the readers.

You want the eye to be stopped, the interest to be held, the desire to be created, and you want the purchase made easy. You also want the ad remembered.

The readers are available. It is up to the advertising copy writer to stop the scanning eye. A paper can do no more than sell its pages. A radio station must make the listener choose its place on the dial.

The business is there if the advertiser can make his copy attractive to eyes and ears. The deaf ear and the blind eye where advertising is concerned have been highly developed in this high pressure society.

To these few suggestions we offer one more. Don't fool the public with trick ads. The buyer may come once but no store can expect to profit long in this day of awakening. The public is becoming hep. It has some protective friends, and more can be expected. Even portions of the press and radio are assuming a bit of responsibility in this respect. And the advertising agencies are expressing the wish to clean up the business so as to assure continued success.

has given everyone new pride in keeping up his home!"

Everyone benefits from a concrete street. It helps keep everything so clean and neat. There's no spring breakup with concrete . . . no softening in the summer. You get good drainage, especially with built-in concrete curbs and gutters.

A concrete street adds to the value of every home it serves—makes them more saleable, today or years from now. That's because a street of new-type concrete has a life expectancy of 50 years and more. Yet initial cost is moderate. And upkeep cost stays low to make it a really sound investment.

Add to this—safety. Dependable skid resistance. High visibility for night driving. A smooth ride that lets every driver feel he's in full control of his car. You can see why concrete is the preferred pavement for residential streets in cities, villages and towns everywhere.

Planning to buy or build?

Choose a house on a concrete street. You'll always be glad you did. Only concrete can be precisely engineered to carry expected traffic loads . . . stay smooth-riding and attractive for such a long period of time.

Plans For Improved Library Service

(This is the third of a series which will give you the complete library news release concerning the study and recommendations made by Dr. Lowell A. Martin and his advisory committee.)

(PROMOTION AND DEMONSTRATION OF LIBRARY SERVICE)

As mentioned before, an estimated 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians are now without any local library service and a definite program should be initiated to encourage such service where there is now none. The Survey report proposes that $200,000 be appropriated to the State Library during the first year this plan is effective for promotion and demonstration of library service.

Such stimulation where library service is now completely lacking or grossly insufficient could take a number of forms. It might be bookmobile service to an area which has had none before; it might be the provision of a professional children's librarian; a demonstration of information and reference service to adults in a county library system which has given primarily service to children in the past, etc. Demonstrations would be financed, staffed, and materials would be supplied by the State Library for a limited period to show aspects of modern library service.

Demonstration funds should be available for the whole five year period, but the amount might be diminished each successive year. Such funds would be supplemented by the Federal Library Services act money which is available for the development of rural library service.

There are several ways in which a community may establish its own library service.

It may take steps to have a county library established, with service to the locality as part of the county program.

It may contract for service with the district library center or with another existing library of some strength.

It may start a local library, with the intent to affiliate with a county library, a district library center, or other nearby small libraries.

It may start a local library and have it stand alone in providing service.

Under the last situation, the locality would not qualify for State aid.

Any community organizing a new library would have the assistance and the advice of the extension librarian at its district library center and also the services of the State Library Extension Division.

Beyond a very definite and active program on the part of the State Library to promote and demonstrate library service, as a first step in acquiring local service, the localities must help themselves -- making a minimum financial effort and plans for an effective library unit. Small isolated, inadequate libraries should not be encouraged (specifically, State aid should be available only to systems built up around district library centers) but such libraries should not be prohibited under law. In regard to the State Library, the Survey has made the following positive recommendations:

1. That the present law regarding the position and functions of the State Library be clarified and strengthened so that this agency may assume its role as co-ordinator and administrator of the state-wide plan envisioned.

2. That the budget for the State Library be increased to a level commensurate with its status in the plan and more in line with the per capita support given state libraries in those states with an effective library system.

3. That it move rapidly toward meeting the standards for the four regional resource centers called for in the plan. This would involve building up its book collection significantly, hiring specialists in those subject areas for which it takes responsibility, and generally increasing its staff and services.

4. That it expand its services to Pennsylvania libraries, administer demonstration programs for developing library service in areas where it is weakest, and establish a continuous program of study of library problems in the State.

It is also recommended that every effort be made to assist in the educational training of qualified personnel to fill additional library positions called for under the plan and to raise the level of professional training to meet the personnel standards called for. To accomplish this, it is proposed:

1. That the State give financial assistance to at least three library schools in Pennsylvania in order for them to expand and graduate more professional librarians.

2. That the State make scholarship funds available to encourage and enable more students to enter the library field.

3. That in-service training programs be made available and that the State Library participate in their development.

It is also recommended that state certification of librarians be established by law and administered by the appropriate divisions of the Department of Public Instruction. It is proposed that an Advisory Certification Board for Librarians be established to assist with the formulation of regulations for the several certificates certifying library assistants, provisional librarians, and professional librarians.

ASIDES

GIVE UP

Two major manufacturers of tv sets are discontinuing some of their production along this line, according to Printers Ink. Hotpoint will stop making television sets and will concentrate on household accessories for which it is best noted. Philco will not make color sets in 1959.

TIME TO REMEMBER

There are people in your block, perhaps, and certainly those in your community, who need help at this time of year. At least their situation becomes more poignant in this season, and perhaps the giving suddenly seems more natural and is easier.

At home there are such agencies as the Salvation Army who know where these people are to be found and are trained in the ways of giving. You can help others through them.

And there are those farther away than a few city blocks who have need of our assistance now. These are reached through CARE. For every dollar you give to CARE a 22-lb. package, in your name, goes to a critical area of the world. Giving to CARE is made easy by the location of area offices in all parts of our nation. Just address your envelope to CARE, Kaufmann's, 5th Ave., Pittsburgh, 19, Pa.

GAMBLING CRACK-DOWN

Over in McKean county they are snapping the whip on all kinds of gambling, including bingo and 50-50 tickets for benefit purposes. If this approach spreads throughout the state, many non-profit groups and churches which now raise money in this way may find it generally unpopular.

Meanwhile, a new law goes into effect January 1 which levies an annual tax of $10 on each amusement device and $250 on each gaming device, regardless of how they are operated. The Internal Revenue Department will enforce this one, which will be prorated due to the tax year running from July 1 to June 30.

INSURANCE SCHOOL

A comprehensive insurance school which meets the requirements of the New York state law for training applicants for the general agents' and brokers' examination will be offered for the fourth consecutive year in the Jamestown Community College. Registrations will be received January 20, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and classes will begin January 22.

The program is composed of 108 hours of instruction, divided into 36 sessions of three hours each, plus a comprehensive three-hour examination.

DEFICIENT CARS

Over half the cars now operating on Pennsylvania highways should not be there because they are a major danger to others and to themselves. A recent survey revealed that 59 per cent of the cars operated had mechanical defects that could cause serious accidents. Most frequent defects involved lighting and brakes. The other major deficiencies were found in tires, glass, and steering.

You can't get much closer to the life-line in a car than that. The average repair job would have required an expenditure of $6.61 . . . a low price for a life.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP

An annual four-year scholarship of $150 a year and a total of $600 has been established at Edinboro State Teachers College by the Pennsylvania P.T.A. It will pay all academic fees and a little more. The money comes from the Hanna Kent Schoff Memorial to encourage students to become teachers. College scholarship officials will interview applicants in March and the award will be announced in April, a bit late it seems to this writer. Applications are now available.

COUNCILMAN CARBON RIGHT

We very much approve the stand taken by Councilman John Carbon at Monday's council meeting when he objected to the practice of setting the rules aside and passing all ordinances the night they are introduced. Any law that affects the public is worth at least a month's consideration by all citizens before it is finally passed.

We see no reason, except in real emergencies, for pushing any law through. If we have lived without it for years we can get by another thirty days. And every member of council knows that within his own conscience.

ANNUAL CAROL CONCERT. The Warren Boy Choir, with 100 voices, will present the annual Christmas Carol Concert Sunday afternoon in the Grace Methodist Church of Warren. The public is invited to either the 4:30 or 8 o'clock program. There is no admission charge, but a free will offering will be accepted to help with expenses.

For the first time the Warren Boy Choir will be assisted by other choruses--the Second Boy Choir and the First and Second Girl Choirs. Byron Swanson will direct.

Do you enjoy a good movie? You will get more pleasure from the movie if you also read the book on which it was based at the Warren Public Library.

Can Hospital Costs Compare With Hotels?

When patients pay their bills, hospitals frequently are compared to hotels in the rates they charge. The comparison is fallacious and invidious.

Hospital patients sometimes have trouble understanding what they pay for because their knowledge is limited to what they have seen from their rooms. In most hospitals only about one-fifth of the space is occupied by beds. In the other four-fifths are the expensive equipment and house-keeping facilities that are necessary for the care, comfort and treatment necessary to guard life and speed recovery. Here work the many employees seldom or never seen by the patient. Hospitals have two employees for each patient; hotels average one employee for every two guests.

There are two similarities between hotels and hospitals. You sleep and eat in both. There the similarity ends. At the hotel desk all that is required is your signature and address. For sound medical reasons a hospital must have much more information about you. At the hospital your admission is frequently followed by a recording of your medical history, extensive tests and examination by a doctor whose training has included nine or more years of post-high school study.

You will, of course, find a bed for your use in both a hotel and hospital. But your hospital bed incorporates an expensive device to raise and lower you, facilities for affixing various equipment for your treatment, and a buzzer to summon skilled people to your side.

For about 60 cents an hour a hospital patient in a semi-private room gets dozens of round-the-clock services. Touch your buzzer and your hospital dispatches a competent young woman to your side. She will take your pulse, administer medicines, watch for and record changes in your condition, bathe you in bed, feed you when necessary, plump your pillow, and change your linen. Linen changes average 14 pounds a day.

Your hospital will serve you three meals a day in bed, depending on your condition, plus between-meal nourishment frequently. In many cases food must be carefully weighed to the last gram and specifically prepared to your own need as prescribed by the doctor.

In addition, there are "extras" which your hospital provides but which hotel and other businesses need not purchase, operate or include in their bills. Available in many hospitals are the services of a resident and medical intern staff. From one to a dozen laboratories are maintained on a ready-to-serve basis where skilled technicians test and analyze body fluids and surgical specimens. Complex X-ray machines, costing thousands of dollars, are operated by men and women with lifetimes of training.

You'll look your merriest this Christmas in one of the new Cay Artley Magic Crepes from Betty Lee Budget Basement. Such pretty prints to choose from . . . gay and bright or muted paisleys . . . and styles that flatter from the shoulder to the waistline. Come in and try them on. Sizes 12 to 20, 14 1/2 to 22 1/2. (Magic Crepe shown) in red, black, blue print, yoke back, 3 quarter sleeves, button-down-the-front.

Your hospital buzzes night and day because sickness and emergency do not await an 8-to-4 shift. This hammers at hospitals' efforts to keep their cost of operation down and their charges to a minimum.

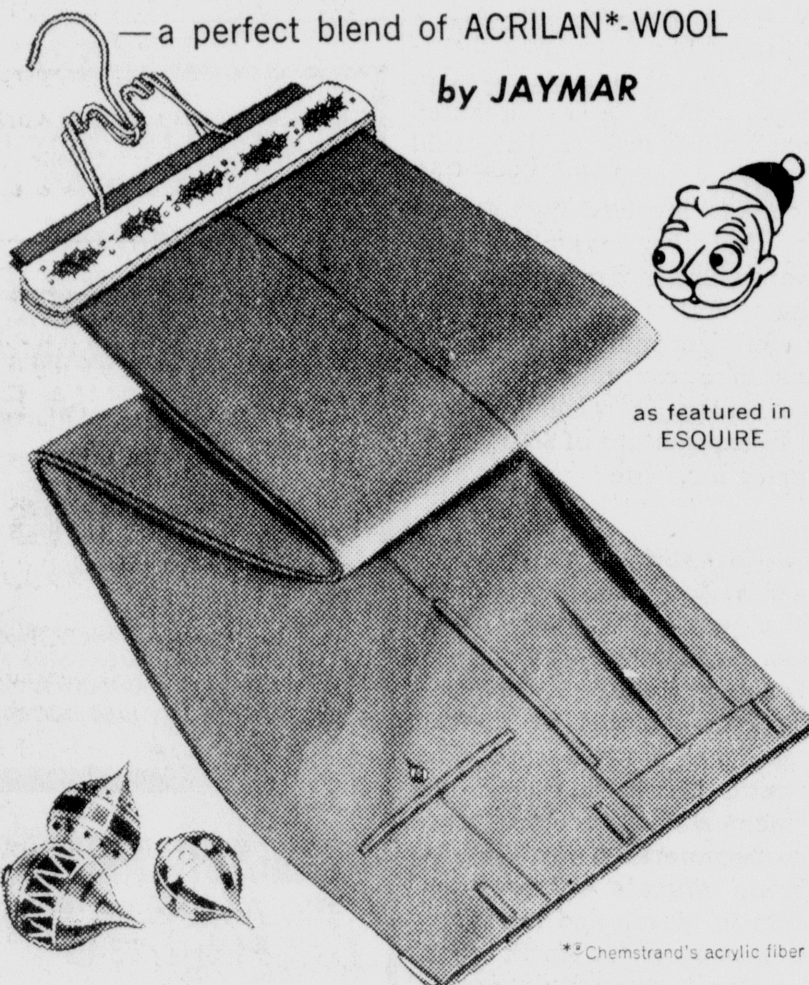

Like neither hotels nor other businesses, hospitals treat, house, feed and care for people whether they can pay or not. In Pennsylvania this year the expense of this free or part-pay service will amount to a staggering $34,500,000. Money from government sources and contributions nowhere nearly bridges the gap. Hospitals got no reimbursement at all this year for $18,000,000 of this care.

For the man at the top of your list . . .

In Brief

IT'S CHILLY HERE. Temperatures in the Warren area have hovered around the "0" mark since the last blast of winter struck, leaving a beautiful (but miserable) layer of snow. The official low in the bor-

STEVE TRITT RETIRING. Steve Tritt, Warren County Agricultural Agent for 31 years and veteran of Agricultural Extension Service for nearly 35 years, has announced his retirement effective December 31. Only recently he was selected for the distinguished service award of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

As a tribute to Mr. Tritt, a group of county persons are planning a retirement dinner to be held at the YWCA at 7:15 p.m., Tuesday, December 16. All persons who know Mr. Tritt and would like to attend the dinner should make reservations by no later than noon Saturday by calling Warren 2561 or 940-J. Tickets are $2.25.

Oviatt Is Re-Elected B. V. School President

Ernest K. Oviatt, a representative of Brokenstraw township, was re-elected president of the Brokenstraw Valley joint committee at the December meeting held Monday evening. Mr. Oviatt has served in this capacity since December 1956.

Charles Camp, of Pittsfield, was re-elected vice president. Other representatives to the joint committee are Kenneth J. Franklin, Brokenstraw; Harold Mitchell and Mary Fitzgerald, Freehold; Homer Wolfe, Pittsfield; Harold Holcomb and Kay Burleigh, Eldred; Donald Abraham and Marlin Schnell, Youngsville.

The board approved a request of the Youngsville high school student council to apply to the American Field Service for a Foreign Exchange Student for the 1959-60 school term. H. J. Sherwood, supervising principal, advised that nearly $800 must be raised in the community and school in addition to finding a foster home before the application could be entered. Groups or individuals interested in this project are requested to contact Jesse Lyon, high school principal, or H. J. Sherwood.

The schools of the Brokenstraw Valley district will be closed Monday, December 15, for a student holiday. Christmas vacation will be from Wednesday, December 24, through Sunday, January 4, inclusive.

WEBSTER RECOGNIZED. L. A. Webster, Warren street superintendent, stressed the importance of speed in snow removal in his letter published in the monthly Newsletter of the Institute of the Local Government, Uni. of Pittsburgh.

The letter, which noted several good points in the operation, was published recently in a Pittsburgh newspaper.

COURT SENTENCES. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., presided over Quarter Sessions Court in the Warren County Court House Friday when the following sentences were handed down:

Kenneth G. Allen, Kinzua, $100 fine, costs, one day in jail, driving during suspension of license; Ralph F. Beedle, Chancellers Valley, costs, one day in jail, driving during suspension; Donald Lindemuth, Warren, $100 fine, costs, three days in jail, drunken driving; Gordon Spencer, R. D., Sugar Grove, $100 fine, costs, two days, drunken driving; Robert Klakamp, Warren, $100 fine, costs, four days, driving during suspension.

Floyd D. Rose, who had served nearly a month in the county jail for assault, was awarded a suspended six month jail sentence. Cases continued were against Arthur E. Atwell, larceny; Allen Sheldon, forgery.

WANTS VETS BENEFITS. Norman Moon, convicted slayer of Judge Allison D. Wade, is making application for veteran insurance benefits. The issue was disclosed when the Veterans' Administration requested a copy of the Lunacy Commission report from the local court house earlier this week.

The commission's findings commuted Moon's sentence from death to life imprisonment in 1957. He is now in Fairview Hospital for the Criminally Insane for his act of January, 1954.

BOROUGH POLICE reported three traffic mishaps Monday, one involving a six-year-old sled rider.

At 10:20 that morning Tom Resler, 825 W. Fifth ave., escaped with only minor injuries to the mouth when his sled came into the path of a car operated by Richard C. Kuhre, 7 Linwood st., at the intersection of Fourth ave. and Union.

About 2:15 in the afternoon, Emma Lau, 1203 1/4 Pennsylvania ave., W., was struck when she pulled out of Morrison st. onto Pennsylvania. Operator of the other vehicle was Richard E. Carlson, 208 Willoughby st. Damage sustained was $300.

Marjorie Wallin, R. D. 1, Warren, was unable to stop on the slippery road while proceeding along Pennsylvania ave., W., at 9:14 and hit a stopped auto belonging to Frank Denardi, 1129 Sechrist st. Police reported $500 damage in this case.

LIBRARY PLAN PRESENTED. The Warren County Library advisory board Tuesday evening presented to the Warren County Commissioners a plan for county library service with the Warren Public Library as a regional center. The board based its presentation according to the outline of The Pennsylvania State Library Survey.

SURPLUS FOOD--butter, cheese, flour, corn meal and rice-- will be distributed at the regular places Wednesday, December 17.

THE ADVISIBILITY of repeating the annual Fourth of July Celebration in Warren will be given careful consideration by Jaycees when they conduct a general membership meeting in the YMCA at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday). There is a possibility a public poll will be used in aiding with the decision.

Other projects to be discussed are new meeting rooms, Operation Library, Jaycee Week, Distinguished Service Award, Roll the Barrell, and the Joe and Jane Jump.

NEW TREE FARMS. Seven of the 15 new Tree Farms in the Cornplanter Forest Dist. certified at a recent Pennsylvania Tree Farm committee meeting at State College were in Warren County. The sections, which amount to 872 of the total 2,302 acres, belong to Fisher & Young, Inc., of Titusville (four sections), Ira R. Brown, Jr., Warren (2), and the I. G. Hyer Estate, c/o L. O. Nichols, Corry (1).

The Tree Farm certification recognizes these forest landowners for managing their timber or reforestation in such a manner as to assure continuing production of wood products.

Assistance in conducting an intelligent and profitable woodland business on a farm woodlot or forest area is available by contacting the District Forester, Box 807, Warren.

The District Forester has also announced that forest tree seedlings are ready for distribution next spring at a very low cost to any Pennsylvania landowner having unused cropland or acreages unsuitable to crops or pasture. There are ample supplies of White, Red and Austrian Pine, Larch, Spruces and Hemlock available.

DURING NOVEMBER the Warren Visiting Nurse and her associate had 63 cases under their care, four of these new. Visits to patients numbered 276.

CHRISTMAS MAILING. The Warren Post Office says the new Drive-In annex is used so little in the mornings it will be open only afternoons. Signs at the Third ave. entrance indicate open or closed.

Lobby windows are now open from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. This schedule will continue through December 17 (Saturday included). The usual hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. will resume December 18.

Deadline mailing dates are (packages and cards respectively) -- Nearby States, Dec. 12, 15; Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Dec. 15, 17; County and Local, Dec. 17-19.

BETTER EARLY THAN LATE.

Snow is also presenting a problem to the postman and it is suggested that walks be shoveled and, in the country, that snow be cleared from around mail boxes so that rural carriers can reach the boxes.

If it is impossible to reach a box the mail will be returned to the post office.

MEN IN SERVICE. Navy Ens. Richard M. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Nelson, Route 1, Pittsfield, has departed from the Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N.J., to participate in the Navy's "Operation Deep Freeze IV" in the Antarctic. He is one of the pilots of Helicopter Utility Squadron Two's detachment aboard the icebreaker USS Edisto.

Serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines is John Foy, chief disbursing clerk, USN, and the son of Chester Foy, 210 Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren.

PROPERTY OWNERS are warned by borough officials they can be arrested and fined for not shoveling their sidewalks. The warning comes from the borough office as a result of a complaint registered at council meeting Monday regarding people who do not clear off the white stuff in bad weather. A campaign to enforce the town ordinance starts with this announcement.

TWO REQUIRED TREATMENT for injuries when cars operated by Ray Simonsen, 825 Jackson st., and Mrs. Eugene Muscaro, Conewango ave., ext., collided at the intersection of Jackson and Prospect streets at noon Saturday. Mrs. Muscaro acquired a bump on the head, while her passenger, 12-year-old Delores Muscaro, received a cut on the side of the neck. The woman driver was coming out of a stop street when the accident happened. There was $400 damage estimated.

SPACE PERMITTING next week the Observer will carry pictures of Seneca Crafters' display at the Warren Public Library.

This group will meet every other Tuesday evening in the second floor of the Medical Group annex starting Jan. 6. Anyone with a hobby is welcome to join the Crafters. Interested persons can call Dr. Ray Lowe, president.

EXPLOSION FATAL. John A. Tasone, age 66, of 316 Park st., Warren, died at 11:30 Monday night in Warren General Hospital from injuries he sustained early the same morning when a boiler exploded at the Crescent Furniture plant on the South Side.

The victim was working on the plant's two main boilers when a 1300-gallon tank in an adjacent room burst and critically injured the Warren man. The water boiler landed over 30 feet from its location.

Pressure from the blast also knocked holes in the wall and roof of the space in which it was housed. An investigation into the cause of the explosion is being conducted.

8:00 p.m. in the club rooms. Games and refreshments will follow. The group will complete plans for a Christmas party.

A CHRISTMAS PARTY . . . for members of the Pleasant Twp. Firemen's Auxiliary will be held next Tuesday, December 16, in the fire hall, starting at 8:00 p.m. Members are to bring a dollar grab bag gift.

There will be no business meeting conducted at this time.

THE GOLDEN AGE CHORUS . . . will entertain Philomel Club members when they meet for their Christmas program in the Woman's Club at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 17. Eleanor Swick, program chairman, is director of the Golden Age Chorus.

Mrs. K. M. Andrews is hostess and chairman for the tea.

BAPTIST MOTHER'S CLUB . . . members will entertain their children with a Christmas party, beginning at 11:00 a.m., Saturday, December 13, at the First Baptist Church. Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute gifts to all the children.

Mrs. Robert Bessey and Mrs. Donald Gustafson are in charge of the program, and hostesses are Mrs. Robert Meyers, chairman, Mrs. Frank Regina, and Mrs. Earle Nollinger.

THE CHRISTMAS MEETING . . . of the Blue Stocking Club will be held at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, December 16, at the home of Mrs. Justine Weld. For the program, Mrs. Margaret Spencer will talk on "Madonnas of the World", and musical entertainment will be furnished by Mrs. Romaine Ericsson.

Hostesses are Mrs. Weld and Miss Kate Winger.

THE NEWLY-ORGANIZED . . . Woman's Auxiliary of the Warren Young Men's Christian Association has adopted a constitution which calls for four regular meetings during the year. Persons eligible for membership are those women who are wives of Association members, or women members of the "Y". Those desiring to belong to the Auxiliary should contact Mrs. S. Knox Harper or the YMCA office.

The Auxiliary will provide an informal coffee hour for the Adult members and their guests on Tuesday, December 23, from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Committee in charge will be Mrs. Julius L. Thorn, Mrs. S. Knox Harper, Mrs. A. H. Templeton, Mrs. John Mallory, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Hammerbeck.

A nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Alan Templeton, Mrs. Harold Hampson, and Mrs. Robert Hammerbeck, which is to bring a recommended slate of permanent officers at the auxiliary meeting on Tuesday, February 23.

"CHRISTMAS IN SONG And Story" . . . is the theme for the First Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service December meeting. Members will meet at 8:00 p.m. in Dunham Parlors on Thursday, December 18.

Mrs. C. C. Winans is in charge of worship, and participants in the program, in addition to Mrs. Winans, will be Mrs. Roger Thoma, Mrs. Florence Stevens and Mrs. Eugene Cease. Hostess will be the Church Activities Committee.

CAROL SINGING . . . will be enjoyed by members of the Ali-We-Je Club when they meet for a 6:00 o'clock dinner and program Thursday, December 18, in the YWCA. In addition to group singing, a "Christmas Story" will be given by Miss Katherine Henderson.

Miss Elizabeth Van Luvanee is chairman of the meeting, assisted by Rachel Raisor and Florence Page.

A SURPRISE . . . is being planned for members of Beta Sigma Phi, Epsilon Epsilon Chapter when they meet at 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, December 17, at the home of Mrs. Carl Anderson. Final reports will be made on the Christmas card sale and the bazaar, proceeds of which will be used towards their project to help the needy at Christmas time.

Among projects discussed for next year will be a Sunshine and Gloom Club. Following the meeting, a Christmas box social will be held. Members are reminded to bring canned goods and articles for the Christmas service project.

WARREN COUNTY SALON Eight and Forty . . . will meet at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday, December 17, in the Warren American Legion Home for its regular monthly meeting and Christmas party. Members are to bring a dollar gift exchange.

A TUREEN DINNER . . . and Christmas party will be held by members of St. Joseph's Altar Society on Thursday, December 18. Dinner will be served at 6:00 p. m., followed by a short business meeting and the Christmas party.

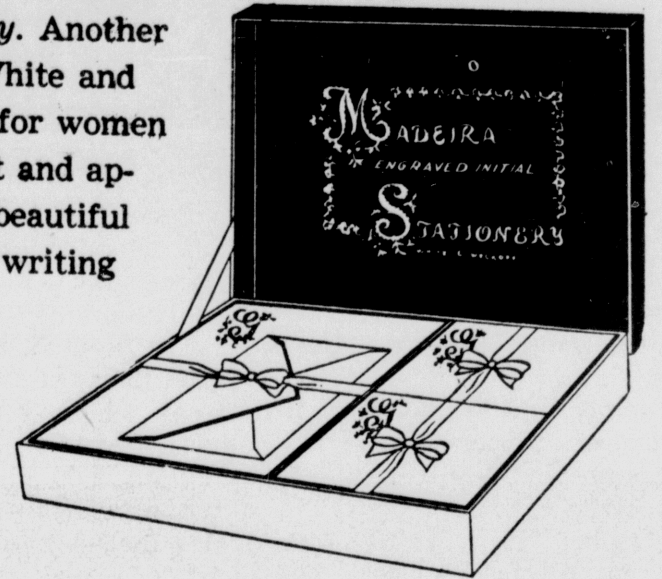

Members are to bring a 50-cent grab bag gift, articles for the Benedictine Sisters Shower, a tureen and table service. The committee will furnish dessert; coffee, sugar and cream will be provided.

Play Time

DRAMA - TV - RADIO - MUSIC - READING - HOBBIES

YOU MAY BE KILLED BY A SWIZZLE STICK

This probably would be more appropriately located in the BUYERS column, but we suspect that swizzle sticks play a major role in our play hours. One kind of stick (used to stir or swish your drink) is made of material which is poison, and thousands of them are being sought by the stores which sold them in hopes that no one will be harmed.

The December 8 issue of Time magazine has an article in its Medicine department that should be read by all who have swizzle sticks topped by a little head which is fashioned like a Haitian voodoo figure. They are made of cashew shells which contain cardol, a source of severe allergic reactions.

The most dangerous part of the heads is the jequirity beans used as eyes. They are deadly poison. One eye fed to a rat promptly killed him.

So, check your stirring, swizzle, or swish sticks. If they are so constructed the U. S. Public Health Service urges you to dispose of them. Fifty partiers in Atlanta broke out in a rash from contact with the cardol.

UNIMAGINATIVE ENDINGS

The consistent loss of sleep suffered by millions of television viewers is too high a price to pay for the satisfaction of dramatic curiosity. Occasionally our will caves in and we read late enough to learn with one ear or part of one scanning eye just how the picture ends.

We are led into this wearying process by one of two challenges. Either we have seen the movie but can not remember the ending, or the play takes off in high gear and we are hopeful that it will maintain the pitch until the final flutter.

It is maddening to see a show which is familiar and not be able to piece it together. So maddening that in our early days of television we bore most of the strains of insomnia, despite the fact that we are so little a victim of the disease that even the big, bright eye in the living room has trouble keeping us awake.

The reward of our endurance is the conviction that our dramatists are a poor lot, or at least put out more weak stuff than they do strong. Even though it is in a sense mass-produced, we suggest that a very little imagination could give many plays a twist that would make the ending worth the fatigue.

A few nights ago we watched a play in which a man was employed to kill an attractive young woman. With his hands on her throat (in the dark) it occurred to him that if he knew why someone wanted so pretty a girl dead the reason might be worth more to him than the small fee he was receiving for strangling her.

He allowed her to live and maneuvered to meet her. His intent was either to marry her for what she apparently was worth or kill her for the few pounds he was being paid if she refused him.

It offered very exciting possibilities and much suspense. But we also were equally interested in why anyone would want her dead. The reason was as flat as the cowmen and the homesteaders. Her guardian would inherit her money if she died before her twenty-fifth birthday.

We could have written a half dozen better endings in the wee hours of the morning with half our foggy mind.

For example, supposing she were the one who employed him? She might have wished to avoid suicide for insurance reasons and her concern for those she loved. So she might conspire to have someone hire a killer who would visit a designated address for the purpose of killing a young lady who could be identified by a picture. It would not be difficult to arrange.

She would be unattractive of the man chosen to do the job, and if he were young and attractive, and liked his work, she might in the course of their relationship, fall in love with him. In which case she might not want to die, but the man who would be giving her reason for wanting to live would be the one she had indirectly employed to end her life.

This and a half dozen other plots crossed our mind as we fumbled and grumbled off to bed. In fact, the best ending for most late tv dramas is your bed. There you can dream up the exciting finish for yourself. The trouble is that the next morning you wonder how it really happened.

So you are faced with the choice of being tired and disappointed or fresh and still curious.

DON'T GO AWAY

The football season is far from over. In fact the richest part continues through December with pro games on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, many bowl games, and pro finals.

ENTER BASKETBALL

Television viewers will get a major break on fourteen Saturday afternoons. Starting this Saturday and missing only December 27, top college teams will meet in important contests. The first one this Saturday will match Kentucky, the NCAA champ, against St. Louis, a consistent challenger for national honors.

The final two weeks will see National Invitation Tournament games, March 14 and 21, the last of which will be the title game.

And if basketball rules and those who enforce them make you a court neurotic, read the December 8 issue of Sports Illustrated. It includes a cutting article about the game which has been made soft for the offense and far too restricting for real defense. It also has many pages of basketball season preview that include scouting reports of 180 college teams, well illustrated coaching instructions, and official records for the past ten years.

FRENCH WINDOW SPECIALIST.
This is Vincent Jacques who has come all the way from Paris to install windows in the new St. Joseph's church. Mr. Jacques is kept on the road about eight months out of the year performing his specialty for the French firm. He came here from Canada, goes next to Erie, and then will work in Gowanla. Because of the French wage level, Mr. Jacques actually receives more for expenses than he does for his work.

TE LA DI O

TOP NEWS EVENTS OF 1958

Eleven NBC news correspondents will appear on the NBC-TV network Sunday, Dec. 28 from 5-6 p.m., to bring a comprehensive review of the significant events of 1958 and also to project the news trends into the coming year. The telecast will be part of the NBC Kaleidoscope series. ***

AWARD TO CONTINENTAL CLASSROOM

In recognition of "distinguished public service in the interests of education", NBC-TV's "Continental Classroom", has been awarded a special citation by the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation. The college-level course in Atomic Age Physics is telecast coast-to-coast weekdays mornings at 6:30 a.m. local time. An estimated 270,000 Americans are watching the course planned primarily for high school teachers of science. 243 colleges and universities offer full academic credit for the course; more than 5,000 teachers are taking it for credit; 27,000 students have mailed in 50¢ each for a syllabus; and 144 stations have cleared time for the course.

In addition to teachers, the course is being viewed by a large audience of college students, gifted high school students, engineers and many others who wish to increase their knowledge of physics.

Continental Classroom has also been saluted by Radio-Television Daily, the nation's daily newspaper of commercial radio and television. ***

PRIMER ON CONGRESS

Timed for the start of the new Congressional session, NBC News will present a five-part series, "Primer on Congress", Jan. 5-9 on the "Today" show. Each special will be telecast at 7:30 a.m. Such subjects as Rules of Congress, Leaders of Congress, Committee System, Locations and How a Bill Is Acted On will be discussed by Washington correspondent Frank McGee. ***

DIAL SPINNERS

PERSON TO PERSON at 10:30 Friday night on WBEN and other CBS channels will feature Ed Murrow in visits to the homes of Metropolitan Opera tenor Richard Tucker and to the New York apartment of Inez Robb, well-known columnist whose columns are frequently carried by the Observer.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERTS of the New York Philharmonic will present the first of a 4-series concert schedule at 12 noon Saturday on WBEN. Leonard Bernstein conducts the program titled "What Makes Music Symphonic?"

ADVENTURING IN THE HAND ARTS at 1 p.m. Saturday on WJAC will have for its subject "Ornaments and Beauty".

CONQUEST at 5 p.m. Sunday on WBEN will examine progress in two different fields of science, cancer research and the study of volcanoes. Eric Serareid serves as host for the hour-long program.

NBC OPERA COMPANY presents Gian Carlo Menotti's Christmas opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors" from 5-6 p.m. Sunday on the NBC-TV network.

NBC NEWS will present a special telecast on the Federal Civil Rights Commission hearings in Montgomery, Ala., at 4:30-5 p.m. Sunday on NBC channels.

HALLMARK HALL OF FAME presents "The Christmas Tree", a special Yuletide entertainment, from 7-8 p.m. Sunday on NBC channels. Starring will be Cyril Ritchard, Carol Channing, Ralph Bellamy, Maurice Evans, Tom Poston, William Shatner and Jessica Tandy.

CHET HUNTLEY REPORTING, at 6:30-7 p.m. Sunday on some NBC channels, will present the first in a series of three studies on South America. The program will analyze the attempts made by Argentina's new government to recover from the effects of the Peron regime.

20TH CENTURY presents "Outer Space" at 6:30 p.m. Sunday on CBS, featuring a report on the rocket-powered X-15.

US STEEL HOUR at 10 p.m. Wednesday will present Helen Hayes in the hour-long live drama "One Red Rose For Christmas".

DUPONT SHOW OF THE MONTH at 9:30-11 p.m. Thursday on WBEN brings John Patrick's Broadway success "The Hasty Heart", starring Don Murray.

BOWLING - The finals of the second Annual World's Invitation Match-Game Bowling Championship Tournament will be covered by "Cavalcade of Sports" on NBC-TV and Radio at 10-11 p.m., Friday. Coming from Chicago, Frisday, the coverage will include the finale of the women's 56-game grind, followed by the last two games of the men's 100-game tourney. The leading male bowler will receive $5,000 first-prize money and the leading lady kegler will receive $2,500. Defending champions are Don Carter, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Marion Ladewig, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

WOMEN'S MAJOR LEAGUE BOWLING joins the NBC-TV network's Saturday afternoon sports lineup on Dec. 13. The filmed series, featuring some of the nation's best bowlers will be presented from 5-5:30 p.m. following the college basketball telecasts. Marion Ladewig and Elvira Toepfer will compete on the opening match. WICU and WGR will carry the series.

FOOTBALL - Pro football will be seen on CBS channels Saturday at 1:30 p.m. when the Chicago Cardinals meet the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Pro Football at 2 p.m. Sunday on CBS channels pits the teams battling all season for the NFL Eastern Conference title, New York Giants vs. Cleveland Browns.

BASKETBALL - NBC launches its college basketball "Game of the Week" series Saturday at 3 p.m. when Kentucky, defending NCAA champion, plays St. Louis at Memorial Coliseum in Lexington, Ky.

Pro basketball "Game of the Week" will be a Sunday afternoon feature on NBC channels, the Detroit Pistons this coming week end.

BOXING - Wednesday night fights have been dropped by both WICU and WGR but Buffalo's new station, WKBW, will carry the event.

Coming up on Friday night's Cavalcade of Sports series are 10-round bout Dec. 19 between Pat McMurtry and Nino Valdes; and on Dec. 26, Garnett "Sugar" Hart vs Ralph Dupas.

BASEBALL will be seen next season on the NBC network with a 50-game schedule to be telecast, starting Saturday, April 11 and continuing through Sept. 27. Games will be seen on both Saturday and Sunday afternoons each week.

YEAR OF THE ESKIMO

Shots of Eskimos standing around applauding a balancing act inside the Arctic Circle represents another distinguished first for Ed Sullivan.

Sullivan has been accredited with being the first man to recognize the entertainment value of a camera shot of an audience applauding an entertainer and making the audience Eskimos adds a note of piquance that we will not soon forget.

It's been a big year for Eskimos. Garry Moore had a blanket toss on his first show featuring Eskimos. Sullivan had a camera shot of a polar bear chasing an arctic seal and losing it. It sounds a little as if desperation had struck the variety shows. Actually, the Sullivan show, which was the first variety show to emanate from Alaska since it became a state, was a pretty good show. Jack Carter, who does an hilarious imitation of Sullivan, promised the Civil War with the original cast next week and I wouldn't be at all surprised.

I never thought I'd live to see the day when "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" would be offered as serious -- well, reasonably serious -- entertainment on nighttime television. It was a triumph particularly struck by Jill Corey who listened to it with every evidence that she was hearing it for the first time, no small feat of acting. Also, I liked Philip Ford and Mimi Hines, a pair of gifted and distinctive clowns, whose act is hard to describe.

Sid Caesar's second Chevy show was not such a happy occasion as his first one but it had moments of great truth. The opening sketch with Paul Douglas and Audrey Meadows, for instance, was dedicated to the proposition that you should never pay for anything. Playing a big shot, Paul Douglas boasts that he owes $150,000. "I didn't know that you were doing that well," murmurs Caesar in great admiration. To his wife, he explains: "He's in debt for $150,000. That's success!"

I bring it up for the edification of any economists among you because this is getting to be a well-travelled, rather bitter joke. Just the other day Danny Thomas delivered a personal monologue with much the same joke. Once, he said, he worked for $150 a week and didn't owe anyone. But after ten years in which he never dipped under $3,000 a week, he had risen to the eminence of owing $280,000.

It wasn't the funniest Caesar sketch I've ever seen but it had the bite of truth. After several years of pretty bland humor, it does seem to me that wit is again beginning to cut deep, to deal with the facts of life. Caesar did two other sketches -- one a satire on those outer horror space movies called "The Mess," the other a parody on all the adult Westerns. Neither of them quite came off but I'm so glad this sort of humor is being tackled on the air again.

As for "The Empty Chair," an adaptation by Peter Ustinov of his own play, I suppose we can call it a distinguished disappointment. It was distinguished in that any study of the patterns of power in a revolution, particularly the French Revolution, is an ambitious and laudable and certainly an unusual theme for a TV drama.

I find written on my notes the notation "awful with flashes of genius," and I'm afraid that sums it up about as well as I know how. Right at the outset a narrator walks out and discourses on the course of the Revolution and this had some wonderful flashes of wit about it. After talking about Danton, Robespierre, Hebert, and others, the narrator, Mouche, says: "Well, there were other characters I seem to have forgotten. Oh, yes, the People..." That tells a lot about the French revolution, that little burst of forgetfulness.

Unfortunately, most of the dialogue was of the self-consciously I-am-speaking-for-history sort, like: "You would kill your mother for the revolution" -- "And, you, sir, would kill the revolution for your mother." The actors, Mr. Ustinov included, strode about declaiming rather than speaking, striking attitudes rather than acting. I expect in print Mr. Ustinov had a good many pertinent things to say about revolutions and power and such all, but in performance it was hard to unscramble the sense of it.

Just the same I hope this won't discourage him from our TV screen. He's a charming and gifted gentleman. And not only as an actor and playwright. His stories and anecdotes and little bits on the Paar and Allen shows have provided some awfully pleasant moments of television.

Do We Want Filibuster Stopped?

By William S. White

WASHINGTON -- Of the Senate's forthcoming debate on the filibuster rule it could be said that rarely have so many been so profoundly affected by so grave an issue understood by so few.

The decision will come at a time when the power of persuading the country by bland and happy oversimplifications, by stirring the fear of being "out of line," by the comforting appeal of simply being in the majority, is incomparably the greatest in our history.

Everywhere more and more gaunt television towers beam out endless messages making it all too clear who are the good guys and who the bad guys in everything -- including the good guys who denounce and the bad guys who support a dusty thing called the filibuster. This is the term for endless talking in the Senate to prevent a vote.

And the decision will come also in a supercharged political atmosphere that will affect and possibly even decide the 1960 Presidential contest.

But at stake are things infinitely more important than all these.

For the background: It is not now possible to shut off a major filibuster -- short of simply wearing it out by letting the filibusters exhaust themselves -- without the votes of two thirds of the entire Senate. The advanced liberals in both parties wish to provide that a bare majority -- 50 of the 98 Senators -- could halt all debate after a specified time.

The old guard Southerners will resist any kind of change. The moderate Southerners, some of the Western liberal Democrats and a good many Republicans are for a moderate alteration. This would permit two-thirds of those voting (instead of two-thirds of the whole membership) to clamp down on debate.

The advanced liberals would fundamentally alter the Senate as an institution. This they bitterly deny; but it is historically and demonstrably the truth. For the Senate was deliberately designed, and for nearly two centuries has so operated, as a frank check on unqualified majority rule. The notion has been that even majorities may sometimes be angrily wrong -- as they were wrong in trying to draft strikers into the Army and to pack the Supreme Court and thus to destroy its integrity as an institution.

The advanced liberals are earnest men, but in some cases they are impassioned men. Some are like the violent abolitionists of long ago who much troubled a reasonably liberal President named Lincoln. These are inflamed by their long frustrations in seeking full civil rights for Negroes. And, of course, they are influenced, too, by the thoroughly legitimate power of racial minorities at the polls.

The extremists among them are profoundly illiberal toward any dissent on this question. Intellectually, some have blood in some nostrils. They overlook that many fairly decent men -- even many liberals -- are also for civil rights but reject the extreme view on how far and how soon the country can go. The extremists treat respect for constitutional tradition as hostility to civil rights.

They forget that not long ago other extremists -- these were on the right wing -- treated opposition to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's attacks on other constitutional traditions as the equivalent of pro-communism.

Too, they do not face up to the fact that any filibuster can be broken,

MR. AND MRS. MELVIN W. DURNELL

The Bethel E.U.B. Church of Warren was the scene of the double ring ceremony November 22 that united in marriage Marilyn Louise Eames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Eames, Warren, and Melvin Wesley rule or no rule, by a substantial and truly determined majority. The operative words are "truly determined." What the civil rights forces have needed far more than a new rule is more genuinely devoted -- as distinguished from lip-service -- backers. Perhaps they have those backers now. Perhaps there could be a real effort to break a civil rights filibuster flat-out and head-on; this correspondent has never yet seen one in 12 years of watching the Senate.

The advanced liberals can fairly argue that the Senate ought to be a place of straight majority rule. But they cannot fairly argue that the Constitution has made it such. They intend to change the meaning of the constitutional structure; surely, they ought to say so.

And they cannot deny that there have been times when a simple majority anti-filibuster rule could have imperilled all civil rights. In the 'twenties, for illustration, disinterested scholars estimated 26 states to be politically in the grip of the Ku Klux Klan. This could have meant not 50 but 52 votes to halt Senate debate -- a majority no less.

The ultimate victims of halting Senate debate by simple majority would be any or every minority and any or every minority interest or issue, given a favorable atmosphere for the majority.

FRUIT CAKE GIFTS

Having a hard time deciding on a gift for Aunt Hannah or Uncle John? Why not give them a gayly decorated fruit cake wrapped in bright Christmas paper?

You can make the cakes weeks before the holidays and store them 'til they're needed. Make certain of a rich, tasty flavor by making the cakes with butter. Real butter flavor enhances the taste throughout baking and storage.

After baking the fruit cakes, wrap them tightly in waxed paper and aluminum foil and store in a tightly covered container. When you're ready to decorate, glaze the tops with a mixture of equal parts of water and light corn syrup which has been boiled vigorously for one minute. Decorate with candied cherries and almonds or other nuts, then glaze again with the same mixture.

50,000 DEER

If the weather opens up this week or during the doe season, the kill may run as high as 50,000, thinks the Game Commission. Heavy snow has reduced many camping areas to half the usual number of nimrods, and many of the most hardy have avoided bucking the backwoods drifts.

The result may be a very concentrated condition during the antlerless days of next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Making it more necessary than ever that the gunmen watch where and what they are shooting.

NOT ENOUGH BEARS KILLED

The bear population in Pennsylvania is becoming quite heavy and this past season did not do much to reduce it. Officials believe that the number of bagged bruins will be less than 400 and a bit over 350. Good weather next year may yield over the 400 mark if the nimrods get out and hunt the big animals.

FIRST DAY MISTAKES

The snow may have been heavy and the hunters less than usual, but the boys came up with their usual number of queer ones. There was the Greene county huntsman (?) who knocked off a tan goat. (He left it there.)

One victim was shot by a piece of wood. A bullet splintered wood from a tree and the flying sliver creased his tummy.

You are not supposed to shoot elk, but as usual one has been brought down. In Elk county a 450-pound bull was shot and a heavy fine exacted.

Really bad eyesight is suffered by a deer hunter in Tioga county. He went out the opening day and put a slug in a large bear. He claimed he killed it in self defense. Game protectors expressed some skepticism when they found the bullet hole was located in the side of bruin's neck.

And there was the fellow who sighted in on his deer, drilled him, but couldn't stay upright to see the buck go down. When the gun went off he broke his ankle on the ice. Hunter and deer had to be carried from the fray.

One of the worst examples of game law violating we have heard about occurred in Perry county. Officers heard two light calibre rifle shots fired in the dark from a car. Investigation revealed a .22 rifle, a spotlight, and a freshly killed rabbit under the front seat. Further search uncovered a deer in the back compartment. It had been shot with a .22 and was still alive. A bit of noise nearby caught their attention and a six-point buck, wounded by a .22, was found kicking the brush.

The driver was arrested and a companion who had slipped away in the dark was picked up the next day. Their fines totaled $400, plus another $40 assessed one violator for hunting while his hunting rights were denied.

Reason for denial? Four years ago he was found with four illegal deer in his possession!

Weather Observing Is Important To Warren

By Lewis Crippen

Warren's weather may not be agreeable to the majority of its citizens and no one, as yet, has determined how to deliver weather "as ordered". Until methods are developed which will give us "Miami temperatures in December" Jim Reier will continue to record the variations in the mercury and the quantities of rain and snow.

Every morning at 7, Jim measures the rainfall or the snowfall, whichever the season produces and gives the river stage a quick survey. Every evening at 7, Jim checks the maximum and minimum thermometers and records the "high" and "low" and resets the instruments for the next 24 hours.

All the information is reported by telephone to the Pittsburgh Weather Bureau and eventually finds its way into the accumulated data of the United States Department of Commerce. In return, Jim receives a detailed weather report from Pittsburgh which is delivered to the Warren Public Works Department and, presently, to the Engineers who are building the embankment along the Allegheny River in Pleasant twp. Storms which may affect the local construction plans can be charted sufficiently in advance to consider alternatives.

Regulations require Mr. Reier to report every six hours when the rainfall reaches 1/2 in. or the river stage reaches 8 ft. until the rain stops and the river crests. Flood stage in Warren is 14 ft. but river interest is evident as far south as Pittsburgh, and lower readings here may seriously affect other communities.

Mr. Reier, regularly employed as Director of the Warren borough Department of Parks and Playgrounds, often gets calls from insurance adjusters to determine the weather conditions to see if they agree with claims. Bird watchers confer with him often so that studies can be made on how weather affects the habits of birds. In the fishing season Jim reports the degree of clearness of the water for the benefit of the downstream sportsmen. In the winter and spring the ice flow is reported. Often cities along the Allegheny call during heavy rains to determine the weather here in Warren and particularly in the spring when ice jams create hazards of flash floods.

The weather observer can not change or forecast natural conditions but Jim good-naturedly accepts "responsibility" for storms and snow. He has been the Warren weather observer since January 1, 1952 and his records are available to the public.

THE RIVER DEPTH is measured every morning by lowering a chain until the weight just skims along the surface of the stream. Since the great flood of 1956, a chart has been prepared which illustrates the height of the river when it threatens the industrial plants of Warren borough. New construction on Warren's west side has been built "with the river in mind".

SPECIAL THERMOMETERS record the "high" and "low" for the day. A mercury type recorder keeps going up as the temperature rises and remains at the highest point. An alcohol thermometer moves a needle as the temperature lowers and leaves it at the lowest point although the alcohol will continue to move with variations. The thermometers are reset each day by spinning the mercury type and up-setting the alcohol variety. When Mr. Reier is out-of-town his duties are assumed by Jerry Davis.

THE SNOW IS MEASURED on a cement slab and then averaged by readings throughout Mr. Reier's yard. Snow is approximately 10 in. for every inch of water but when it has accumulated in the special container at Jim's left it is melted down and measured as water since snow varies in its water content. The liquid is poured into a container which is 1/10 the diameter of the accumulating can so that 1 in. in the measuring can is actually 1/10 inch in the accumulator.

DRAGONS DEFEAT TECH WITH FINAL PERIOD SPURT

A big fourth quarter in which they outscored their opponents 19 to 10 gave the Warren Dragons their third triumph of the young campaign and a 59 to 50 win over the Erie Tech Centaurs on Beaty gym last Saturday night.

Reserve Joey Massa came off the bench to hoop seven counters and lead the Blue and White attack in that final period.

The Dragons built a 29 to 25 halftime lead but saw the visitors fight back and end the third period in a 40 to 40 deadlock. The Dragons then came to life in the final frame and outdistanced the Erie five.

Mike Cashman led Warren with 13 markers and Nicky Creola followed with 12.

DRAGONS UNSEAT KNIGHTS WITH TERRIFIC FINALE

Win number four of the season and the fifteenth consecutive victory on Beaty gym were notched by the Warren High School cagers when they upended the Northern Area Knights, 77 to 37, Tuesday night.

The Blue and White built a respectable 16 point lead at half-time, slowed down and battled the visiting NA team on even terms in the third frame and then broke loose with a 33 point fourth quarter to account for their 40 point winning margin.

The shooting of both teams was accurate, although the score does not indicate this. Warren hit on 35 of its 76 shots and the Knights connected on 17 of their 35 tries.

Nicky Creola scored 18 points and Joey Massa contributed 16 points to the winning total.

EAST FOREST DOWNS WHS JV

The East Forest varsity squad dumped the Warren junior varsity, 50 to 34, on Beaty gym last Saturday night. John Barr with 14 and Dick White with 10 were the big guns in the Blue and White attack.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL CAGE PLAY NEXT WEEK

Only two county high school cage teams will see action this Friday night while all five teams will take to the court on Tuesday night.

Northern Area (0 and 1) will travel to Falconer, N.Y., and Tidioute (0 and 2) will go to North Clarion for games tomorrow night.

Next Tuesday night, Warren (4 and 0) will host Kane, Northern Area will entertain Panama, N.Y., Sheffield (2 and 0) will commence its Allegheny Mountain League season at Emporium, Youngsville (0 and 3) will be at Corry and Tidioute will travel to Randolph.

BE CAREFUL WITH OIL STOVES!

Oil stoves can be dangerous if not used correctly. They should always be kept clean. Don't wait—have them fixed immediately if they are not working properly. Make sure the stove is turned on and off according to the directions. Also follow the instructions when refilling with clean oil or kerosene. If you gamble with fire—the odds are against you!
